Idea behind NOVUS !!

All over these years since the concept of blockchain came into existence a lot of companies have come into the market to do something in the space of crypto. But one formula we all fail to understand, Every asset in the market runs on the protocol of demand and supply which further means that every crypto currency introduced should have a utility in the market, reasons for which it is called an asset. To bring this thought into the Real world NovusZilla was initiated. We aim to comprise all virtual assets into one platform .

The Novuszilla is building a global community which is focused on working in a Decentralized finance based system which is integrated with Native crypto currency of Novuszilla - Novus coin.

We are working towards building this coin as one of the finest assets in the market which generates stable profits and higher returns for our stakeholders.

To get more closer to our vision, we extend our community each day by getting new and fresh promoters globally who tend to work in our coin distribution system which are further rewarded with incentives and higher returns from the coin.
